DONATION OF CORPS MAKES BASKET BALL POSSIBLE.

P. C. ON CAMPUS FRIDAY.

Due to the fact that the receipts from the football games were materially reduced by the War, the Athletic Council found it necessary last fall to discontinue athletics for the remainder of the session. The corps heartily approved of the action of the Council; but there was a general unrest, that, after our return from Xmas holidays, because apparent in a movement to subscribe the necessary funds to carry on basketball. The movement was successful, and practice has begun. Had it not been for the Corps' liberal donation of more than $200.00 it would not have been possible for us to have had basket ball this season. That's the spirit Tigers, down in our hearts we have it—the most of us are not quite demonstrative enough tho; so, seeing our fault, let's correct it. Get on the side lines, and make it known that we are all behind the team.

Between twenty-five and thirty men are out every after-noon for practice, and it is gratifying indeed to see so many old faces among them. Practice so far has been entirely devoted to getting the men in physical trim and in teaching them to pass. Some time has been given to "team work"—that outstanding feature of a "Jiggs" Donohue team. The men are working hard and we expect to "wollop" P. C. next Friday. The competition is great, and each and every man is doing his best to land a berth on the Varsity five.

The first team for practice will probably consist of Colbert and Robertson, guards; Williams and Watkins, forwards; and Bryan, center, altho this has not been definitely decided. As to who will make Varsity, we can only wait and see. Among the new men who are showing up well are Black, J. M., Thornton, and Schenk. Some others who are out are Ford, Going, Truluck, Lowman, Rode, Mawkinney, Morecock, Black M. J., Copeland, Poe, Garrison, Dunbar, and Boggs.

Last year we had a good team, a team that made a record of which we are justly proud. This year we are going to put out an even better one, a winning team. But fellows, this cannot be done by coach, the players, or the corps alone, the three must pull together. Coach and the men are already on the job—its our move next. Get out on the sidelines, and cheer the boys on. They are working hard and you know yourself how encouragement helps. When you see a man make a good play, tell him so. If you meet him on the campus, slap him on the back and tell him about the good work he is doing. Thoughts never made another happy yet, it's the words that count. Get on the job, give "Jiggs", "Hozy", and "the boys" your support, let's have some real "Tiger" spirit. Go to the practice and when you come back don't be able to speak above a whisper.

RED CROSS MEETING HELD LAST FRIDAY EVENING.

DR. JOSIAH MORSE OF COLUMBIA MAKES EXCELLENT ADDRESS

A Red Cross Mass Meeting was held in the College Chapel last Friday evening at which Dr. Josiah Morse of the State University and Dr. D. W. Daniel of the Clemson faculty made addresses.

Dr. Morse in his address treated mostly of the nature of the Red Cross organization. He said that the Red Cross is the greatest universal, voluntary organization in the world today. This society, the speaker said, has twenty-two million members in the United States alone.

The speaker then pointed out that its work is neutral, the medical organization of this great body ministering on the field of battle to enemy and friend alike. Its work can be done by no other organization in the world. Dr. Morse said that the Red Cross was an organization which called for real sacrifice; that any one contributing either time or money expected no return. In closing, he enumerated the things which the Red Cross was doing to make the life of the soldier on the battlefield more livable.

Dr. D. W. Daniel then made a ten minute talk. He said that the least thing that a man could do, who could not fight, was to join the Red Cross. He urged every student to join at once, and that nothing would please him more than to have every student at Clemson become a member of the Red Cross; that in after years every man, who lived during this war, should be able to tell his children that he had been a member of the Red Cross society.

Immediately after Dr. Daniel's address, the organization of the Red Cross chapter at Clemson was effected. The following officers were elected:

Chairman—Prof. M. E. Bradley.

Vice-Chairman—Mrs. W. W. Long.

Secretary—Mrs. H. W. Barre.

Treasurer—Prof. A. G. Holmes.

The chairman then appointed the committees. Music was furnished by the Cadet Band. All the people present were given an opportunity to join after the meeting was over. Many students availed themselves of this opportunity. A canvass of barracks will be made during the first of the week.

SCHUMANN QUINTET REPRODUCES INTERESTING PROGRAM.

The Schumann Quintet gave a very interesting lyceum program in the college chapel last Saturday evening. The cast consisted of two violinists, a cellist, an organist, and a pianist. Miss Portune sang "La Provence" and "When the Boys Come Home." As the closing number she sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The cello solos were well-received.

The little introductions and explanations by the director were very humorous and interesting. As a whole this program was classical in nature.

"Cotton" Watkins, looking intently at an oyster sandwich, "Say 'Augie', what kind of bait do you catch oysters with?"

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MAKES APPEAL TO OUR ALUMNI.

Below is published a copy of a letter that is being sent to all of the Alumni. The letter is self-explanatory. We sincerely hope the Alumni will realize the importance of this appeal, and will all come forward and do their part to put the Tigers where they belong and where there are going to be—Champions of the S. I. A. A.

The letter is as follows:

To a Loyal Alumnus of Clemson College.

Dear Sir:—Clemson put out the best football team last fall that she has since 1906. The team was made up almost entirely of sophomores, and all of these men will be with us next season. Mr. Donahue, who forced himself to be the man of the hour by his great work with a green team last fall, will be with us again next season. We fell, therefore, with the material and the coach we have, our football team will win for Clemson that coveted "place in the sun" which was ours in 1903 when Clemson was not only considered a contender for the Championship of South Carolina, but had to be reckoned with in determining the Championship of the S. I. A. A. While we honestly believe that our prospects for a "come back" next season are brighter than they have ever been, the financial condition of The Athletic Association is anything but bright.

At the close of the football season, due largely to debt carried over, it was found that The Athletic Association was $2,000. in debt, with a coach and assistant coach, whose salaries would amount to $1950.00 by the end of the season, and had the prospect of a loss of at least $1,000.00 during the baseball season. The Athletic Council, realizing that the prospects were such that we were doomed to begin next season with an indebtedness of practically $5,000.00, decided, after mature consideration, to discontinue inter-collegiate baseball for this session, and to cancel its contract with Mr. Morris, the Assistant Coach, thereby saving approximately $2,000.00. Even by these drastic measures, The Association will be forced to begin next season with an indebtedness of approximately $3,000.

The above facts, upon being presented to the students, caused them to make a determined effort to reduce this debt, and to this end they selected the undersigned committee of seniors to solicit the aid of our Alumni. The student body is, doing its part, and has contributed liberally to athletics, and an unprecedented number of other worthy causes during these troubled times of ours; but it is to the Alumni that we look for the greatest aid in this hour of need.

The Alumni of practically all the other great colleges make annual contributions to their Athletic Associations, but the Alumni of Clemson College have never made any contributions of a substantial nature to our Athletic Association.

We therefore appeal to you for a contribution to assist us in wiping out this debt of The Clemson College Athletic Association so that we may open next season with a clean sheet, and we promise you that the record of our 1918 football team will be one of which an alumnus of any college should be proud. Your contribution should be made payable to the Clemson College Athletic

FOOTBALL MEN ENJOY BANQUET.

Last Thursday night President Riggs entertained the football team with a banquet. The banquet was what might be considered a crowning feature to a successful football season and to Dr. Riggs' forty-sixth birthday. It is needless to say the "feast" was a success. Every one was in a good humor and thirty four pound turkey brought to each a happy vision of the pleasant holidays just passed.

After cigars were passed Dr. Riggs called on Professor D. H. Henry, President of The Clemson Athletic Association, for a talk.

Professor Henry spoke of the financial condition of the Association. He outlined three ways in which the debt of the Association might be materially reduced. One was to have an athletic fee such as most colleges have. Such a fee would be small and paid at the beginning of the session with the other college fees. This plan was suggested a few years ago, and the Corps showed their desire for it, but for some reason the subject was dropped and no more has been heard of it. The second plan was to have the Alumni contribute to the upkeep of athletics. This is also a wise plan, and one that should be pushed forward. The third way was to make a campaign against "the willful and careless breakage of college property." It has been the custom in the past for all cadets to sign over to the Athletic Association that part of their breakage fee that remains after the college has received its part for property destroyed during the year. The more we break, the less the Association gets. Many cadets willfully destroy things just for the pleasure, if you may call it that, of breaking. They break electric globes, test tubes, beakers, etc. intentionally. Such men should be punished for this inexplicable and inexcusable conduct, and it is the duty of every man to get behind them and see that they stop. The other class are those who are careless. They destroy many things that could be saved if they would steady themselves and realize what they are doing. Every time you throw a snowball and break a window glass it is just that much out the Association's pocket.

Coach Donahue made a talk on the team. He reviewed the football season, and then spoke of the prospects for next year. Coach says we have as good material as there is in the country, and that next year, with the same spirit in the players and the undivided support of the Corps, we are going to put out a winning team. We all know what "Jiggs" means when he says "a winning team,"—we know the players are going to have that "Old Tiger Spirit" then it's up to us—what are we going to do?

Capt. elect Banks was absent, and States Finley took his place. He gave a talk on the team from a player's standpoint. He spoke of the benefits derived (Continued on Second Page.)

EDITORIAL.

Every reader of THE TIGER is urged to pay special attention to the letter published in this issue, which is being sent to all the Alumni.

There are three things that are absolutely essential to a winning athletic team—A good coach, plenty of material, and money. Of these three it is an indisputable fact that we have the first two. No one who is familiar with our record under Coach Donahue can doubt this. To win fourth place among the football teams of the South is no small honor, but there is always the thought that we once held first place, and that for years our elevens were among the premier ones of the South. Every true Clemson man longs for the day to return when the Purple and Gold will wave triumphantly over the banners of all the other colleges south of the Potomac.

But it takes something more than longing to accomplish this. It takes the cash. No athletic team, however good, can be expected to accomplish much unless it knows that has a firm foundation to grow on. How can a team be expected to do its best work when there is always a suspicion that it will "blow up" before the season is half over, making all the practice go for naught?

It has been asked,—“Why is it that Athletics are not self-supporting? Why do not the receipts pay all expenses?” The answer is that ordinarily they do. Altho Clemson is in the country, and has not a big city from which to draw crowds to see her games, she has always managed to rock along until the last couple of years. Due to war times and due to the fact that for the two or three years preceeding this one our teams were not particularly successful we have not drawn the crowds we should, and consequently our receipts have not been up to what they normally are. This year the attendance at the State Fair and at Orangeburg was below expectations.

But, after all, it is not “getting us anywhere” to discuss the causes of our deficit. When a man has fallen into a well he does not want a lecture on the theory of gravitation—What he needs is a ladder. And that is exactly the position of our Athletic Association. We are in the hole. We don't need any words of sympathy or regret—What we do need, and MUST HAVE, is the money with which to get out—and when we do get out we expect to have the best athletic team in the South, bar none.

To the man who claims that Athletics are causing us to spend too much money we would respectfully refer him to some of the colleges who have been most successful in athletics in recent years—colleges whose players have been collected from all over the country and sent there for the express purpose of playing football. Think of what these colleges are spending for Athletics.

But Clemson wants no money for such purposes. Our teams are composed of our own South Carolina boys, and what victories we have won, and will in the future win, are won with South Carolina bone and muscle, and we are proud to say it. The money we spend is spent for legitimate purposes—No one has ever lain at our door the charge of having “ringers,” and no one ever shall.

But we need that third essential, cash, and we must have it if we ever expect to take our rightful place at the top. It is said that opportunity knocks but once—whether true or not it is a dead sure fact that she is knocking NOW. Look what Coach Donahue did with a green team! NEXT year that team will have what this year it lacked—EXPERIENCE.

Alumni—do you intend to let this golden opportunity slip by? Do you intend to pinch your dollars when by donating a few of them you can again see the CLEMSON TIGER LEADING SOUTHERN FOOTBALL?

The destiny of Clemson will never be fulfilled until the roar of the victorious Tiger is heard on Grant Field in Atlanta, and on Riggs Field when we play Auburn.

The gist of the matter is just this: CLEMSON MUST LEAD THE SOUTH in spite of all the obstacles between the Potomac and—Key West. Will YOU do YOUR share to help her accomplish this glorious destiny?

We are indeed glad to have Coach Donahue again with us. The cold weather doesn't seem to have affected his “pep” to any extent, for he is still as gay as ever. He has a right to be too—for isn't he going to get for us in basketball, what he got in football—the State Championship? You bet. Just watch him.

Don't forget to mail your TIGER! Your copy has not done its full duty until it has been read by “Her” or, if sent home, by all the family, then by the schoolmates of Sister or Brother.

Perhaps some busy High School football man will read it, take a liking to Clemson, and come here. Who knows?

Just address it and leave it on the box by the guard-room. It will be sent off on Thursday morning.

“GOODBYE FOR A FEW MONTHS.”

With a glad heart I've lived and enjoyed life at Clemson College. I'll never forget the people I've met and known and associated with.

You can't know how much I appreciate your friendliness and your indulgence. I thank you for the helpfulness of it. I am grateful for lessons taught and for the chance to labor with you.

Leaving hastily I fail to see many and tell them goodbye.

I leave with regret—yet there's a certain joy of anticipation. Duty is a queer thing after all. Strong and masterful. The order comes “Go faithfully—play the man, be strong!”

Here's hoping I'll be able to be of service to our country and to the Cause of Right.

Won't you pray that Christian men will feel the responsibility of influence while in camps and that they may extend their influence towards helping some fellows to live clean lives and to induce men to Christ?

May God bless us and bring us face to face again, friends—

Yours,

P. B. Holtzendorff, Jr.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY LEAVES FOR AVIATION TRAINING CAMP.

Yesterday morning Mr. P. B. Holtzendorff, Jr. our general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., left for his home, from whence he will proceed to the Aeronautics Training School at Austin, Texas next Saturday. The faculty and student body sincerely regret Mr. Holtzendorff's departure, as he has made many friends while here. He has not only filled the secretaryship excellently, but has shown a decided interest in athletics and student life as a whole. The best wishes of the entire corps go with “Holtzy.” May he have the same measure of success in the service of his country as he has had as Clemson's Y. M. C. A. secretary.

His place as General Secretary will be filled for the remainder of the session by Mr. J. M. Stoney. The Assistant Secretaryship, which was vacated by the departure of Mr. Dozier N. Fields for Camp Johnstone, will be filled by Cadet W. H. Bryant.

from football, and laid particular stress on class football, telling how many a good player never gets his chance because he does not go out. This is very true, and each man must do his duty to get out good class teams. If you can play, or think you can, go out and try, and, if you can't play, persuade some one that can play to go out. Either way no harm is done, and it will do a great good.

“Buck” Pressley gave his speech as manager. He said it had been a great honor and pleasure to have been manager of the team this year. But the part of his talk that will remain dear to each man's heart was his expression of the feeling he has for each and every man of the team. “Buck” leaves us this year, and the Corps tenders to him their sincere appreciation for the good work he has done while manager.

“Johnny” Gantt gave a review of the “old days,” telling how in '06 and '07 Clemson was a power to be reckoned with when the S. I. A. A. Champion was proclaimed. Then he traced the standing of the Tigers each succeeding year, pointing out how with each team our place dropped lower and lower till '17 was reached. “Johnny” says we are going back where we belong next year, and we believe he is a true prophet.

The speaking was closed by Dr. Riggs. He told how he had brought athletics to Clemson, how he had coached the first teams, and then when the duties of President had taken him from the field, he had turned over the helm to Professor Gantt. He said, what is very true, that a college is not known by its curriculum, but by the kind of athletic teams it puts out.

Those present at the banquet were Professor D. H. Henry, Coach E. A. Donahue, Prof. J. W. Gantt, Cadets S. R. Finley, J. H. Pressley, W. L. Hart, W. C. Colbert, L. P. Thackston, L. R. Kay, M. H. Williams, R. C. Potts, L. M. Lightsey, J. H. Bartles, F. E. Armstrong, J. W. Allison, H. M. Elliott, J. C. Owens, and W. H. Wallace.

ALUMNI

Clemson is and always will be proud of the men who take up arms in defense of the state and nation which she represents. There are a number of men at present that she is especially interested in, and these are the men of the senior class and underclassmen also, who have recently left their friends and associations at college to enter the training camp at Ft. Oglethorpe. These boys, about forty in number, left on Jan. 5th. for the camp. A letter from one of the "bunch" printed in the TIGER last week reported that all was well so far. Letters from individuals say that they are hard at work and are satisfied. They are at a disadvantage on account of having to compete with men that have had army training for many years.

Following is a list of the men and their rank in the corps of cadets. It will be seen that the Clemson Corps lost many efficient officers and non-commissioned officers.

Majors Parks, F. E., Bass, R. E., Captains Ayers, T. L., Cannon, W. M., Gaines, H. E., Lieuts. Suggs, G. W., Stribbling, B. H., Suggs, Sergts. Allison, W. A., Jackson, T. S., Chapman, R. C., McIntyre, J. M., McDonald, C. T., Corpls. Attman, V. H., Gilmer, G. G., McMillan, D. G., Pvts. McCue, C. M., Zeigler, O. J., Bailey, M. B., Ellison, R. J., Douglass, J. R., Grohamnn, C. E., Strong, H. H., Howell, W. F., Snelgrove, W. K., and Rowell, J. B.

Aside from these, several members of the Corps have left for the Aviation corps: Caldwell, A. G., '18, Biggerstaff, C. C. Ex '20, Parks, G. W. Ex. '20.

First Lieut. Chas. E. Boinean of Columbia has been selected as chief mustering officer to fill the vacancy created by the transfer of Colonel Graham. Lieutenant Boinean attended the officer's training camp at Ft. Oglethorpe. Since the organization of cantonments he has been assistant mustering officer. He was one of Columbia's most popular young business men. He is a graduate of Clemson College of the class of '03.

D. J. Cain '17 is teaching agriculture in Jesup, Ga. "Mutt" Gee, '17 is also doing the same kind of work.

A. G. Kennedy '08 is 1st. Lieut. at Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C.

Harry Horton Ex. '18 is Lieut. of regulars at Chickamauga Park.

"Sam" Littlejohn '17 and "Little Joe" Hunter '17 are in the 3rd, training camp.

Dr. Wilson P. Gee '08 is now with the Extension Division at Clemson.

"THE SINS WE DO LIVE AFTER US."

How would you like to have a diploma from a school for gambling?

When you see me matching for a drink or a sandwich you think little of it. If you see me matching for a dollar a throw, what would you think of that?

After all, the thing that counts is what we really are. What we are to the world is one thing. What we are to ourselves may be an entirely different thing. It should be the same.

No man wants to be known among the men who do this as a gambler.

Gambling is matching and vice versa. "Life is a gamble?"

Don't deceive yourself above all else. Come down to business and reason with yourself.

Habits formed now stick. Things we like now, we'll like in years to come.

Life is a serious thing with lots of amusing incidents interspersed.

If it's wrong to match—to throw dice for money—for anything which costs money or effort and releases the winner, if it's wrong, and it is wrong—why do it?

You can't go to a solitary member of the Clemson Faculty and get a recommendation if you tell such a one you gamble and "shoot craps." Why try to beat the game? You're losing the grip on yourself. You're getting to that point in life where you are unable to say "no!" when temptation comes. Brace up! Be a real man! Live like one! Help others to do likewise.

Most corporations prefer men who drink to men who gamble. Men who smoke cigarettes are unable to secure work among leading companies.

There's nothing to be proud of because one is profane or a gambler.

No Christian man who thinks will gamble. You can't conceive of Christ as matching. Gambling alienates a soul from God. It deprives man of a desire to commune with God. The gambling spirit robs a man of the quality of mercy. It gives greed predominance. Love becomes a secondary matter. A gambler loses faith in men, he's distrustful of all. All men are crooks in his light until they prove themselves otherwise.

Truly, gambling is a gripping and terrible habit. An enemy to what's best in man—it drags down.

Stop now and consider what you do! Think!

Help the other fellow to quit. Be of some service in a righteous cause. Love right for right's sake.

We don't desire that our mothers or fathers know we gamble. Let's have some standard we can judge each other by.

Read the four gospels and find out what Christ has to say about right living. See how he endeared himself to his people. Watch the growth of love as you follow Him in His ministry.

Halt! Put on brakes! Have an accounting with yourself. Take God into account.

You are a Christian? You are a member of the Church? Show others the true conception of the Christ Life. Be a Christian at heart.

"Know thyself; and to thine own self be true,

And it must follow, as night the day, Thou canst not then be false to any man."

Being profane is no indication that you are a man. Neither is ability to smoke several packs of cigarettes per day.

The most ignorant and debauched negro in the State of South Carolina can probably outswear any of us.

Swearing is not the mark of a gentleman. Profanity is not the stamp by which we recognize well educated, well bred men.

It's senseless! It's useless! Absolutely, there's no pleasure derived from it.

A man who is constantly profane gradually arrives at a stage in life when he detests the presence of decent women and is not pleased in the company of men of clean speech. He seeks his level.

We are judged largely by our associates and friends. Fortunately we've the prerogative of choice in this very important matter.

The joy of life comes from a few sincere friendships.

Make your choice of friends.

To have friends one must show himself friendly.

Emanate joy instead of uttering senseless cursings.

"The loud laugh," we are told, "proclaimeth the vacant mind" Even so—Constant swearing denotes a small vocabulary.

"Study to show thyself approved" Cursing and swearing causes one to lose self respect. That's about the most important assets we close, but we soon lose the respect of others.

You don't have to swear to be a real man. If you do swear, you're not real man, for the ideal man doesn't babble useless cursings.

Say something plant, or at least jolly, instead of swearing and see if people don't appreciate your fellowship and company more.

Honor your name. Honor your State. Do honor to your college and compel others to recognize you as a man of clean speech, clean thoughts, and faultless, behavior.

Be one outwardly.

Life the life that counts and you will count far more.

Clemson Agricultural College

A young man can make no better investment than in a technical education. Viewed merely as a matter of business, even if he has to borrow the money at interest, he will find that his increased earning capacity perhaps even the first year after graduation will be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a poor business policy to wait to earn the money necessary to pay for an education with an earning capacity only one-half or one-third that of an educated man. Every year of untrained, uneducated labor represents a direct financial loss. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are unable to pay for his education, should get some friend to indorse his note at the bank and begin preparation that will make for greater earning capacity and a fuller life. There is no time to lose. The world is looking for men of large ability and is willing to pay for them. Already there is a surplus of the one-horsepower variety.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S
SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING AND AGRICULTURE

One of the largest and best equipped Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges in the South. 1,544 acres of land. Value of plant over $1,300,000. Over 120 teachers, officers and assistants. Enrollment of over 800. Every county in South Carolina represented. 13 Degree Courses. 4 Short Courses. 24 Departments of Instruction. New and Modern buildings, equipment and sanitation. Over $100,000 expended in public service.

VALUE OF A TECHNICAL COLLEGE EDUCATION

A college education is no longer a luxury of the rich, but more a necessity of the poor boy whose parents can give him little or nothing to start on. In earning capacity, it represents at the outset a capital of from $15,000 to $30,000, depending upon the energy, character and personality of the possessor, and the capital increases with every year of its efficient use.

There never was a time in the history of the world when expert knowledge was so much in demand, so indispensable to individual success, and so highly compensated. For the untrained await the positions of low wages, long hours and poverty.

Clemson College brings within the reach of every boy in South Carolina the benefits and possibilities of a technical education. The way is provided whereby, if he have the ambition and capacity for knowledge, he need not continue in ignorance. Here, at a cost lower than at any similar institution, can a young man obtain an education that will prepare him for self-sustaining, self-respecting citizenship.
